REVIEW OF MARKETS FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Stocks, Money, Exchange, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, Provisions, Etc.

New York, Nov. 4.—Since the surplus reserves of the New York banks fell to about a quarter of a million dollars, in mid-September the professional traders in stocks have looked for a deficit in the required cash reserves of the banks almost every week. The wiping out of the surplus shown to-day was, therefore, not a surprise. The week's evente made the stock market peculiarly vulnerable in spots, and the alump in prices of a few stocks gave an appearance of demoralization to the market. Leather, especially, which touched 40 at the opening and was above 39 when the bank statement appeared, slumped suddenly to 25, the breaks between transactions reaching as high as 3 points, Marginal accounts in this specialty were wiped out right and left, and then the price was bid up again to 36, at which it closed. Sugar and Brooklyn Transit were also losers to the extent of over 2 points. A number of other prominent Industrials lost between 1 and 2 points, but the general list reacted only a fraction. There were some violent recoveries from the low level, and the closing was feverish and greatly excited at net losses all through the list.

The speculative excitement was increased by the fact that the bank state. ness than the requirements of the 25 per cent, rule.

level, and the closing was feverish and level, and the closing was feverish and greatly excited at net losses all through the list. The speculative excitement was increased by the fact that the bank statement was withheld until ten minutes before the close of the trading. Efforts to close accounts in the short time remaining made the market furiously active. The loss in cash shown by the statement is somewhat greater than was expected, which is doubtless brought over from last week's condition by the average system of computations. The trivial contraction in loans of less than a quarter of a million dollars can only be explained on the assumption that the wholesale calling of loans by the banks early in the week was offset by a subsequent very liberal extension of credits. The growing ease in the money market goes to confirm this view. Such extension of credits must be based on a faith of the bankers that the current drain on their cash resources is soon to be relaxed. The upward tendency of New York Exchange at all interior points during the past week indicates the ground of this faith. The weekly bank statement of the New York Clearing House have been below the legal reserve limit. They have not sought to build up a surplus in that time, but have apparently been content to discriminate in the calling of loans against collateral which did not please them, and, with their security thus improved, to keep loans to the limit of the legal requirements by 333.30. The amount of loan contraction necessary to bring the proportion of reserve back to the legal requirements would therefore be $1,353,400. Chicago, November 4.—The over-whelming and apparently inexhaustible supply in sight, coupled with a stagnant cash demand, depressed wheat again to-day, and December closed a shade lower at 68½c. Corn lost ½c. Oats closed a shade lower. Provisions improved a trifle. ments by $33,350. The amount of loan contraction necessary to bring the proportion of reserve back to the legal requirements would therefore be $1,353,400. Business in bonds has been on a large scale this week, especially in some lower grade speculative issues, which have been sharply advanced. U. The Cotton Markets.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

New York, Nov. 4.—The market for cotton opened steady in tone at a decline of 2 to 7 points, latter in response to weak cables, though profit taking on a liberal scale served to hasten the downward course of values on the call. With nothing in the way of news but the cables to reassure them, shorts took advantage of the reaction to cover exemplates.
